

Big Basin Redwoods State Park
Planning Objectives

The following are planning objectives that the General Plan hopes to achieve. While considering possibilities, these objectives will be included in the preferred plan.

1. Protect both natural and cultural resources while providing outstanding recreational opportunities.
2. Protect all sensitive native wildlife species and their habitats.
3. Protect, perpetuate, and restore native vegetation complexes through active resource management programs.
4. Introduce management practices to protect Marbled Murrelet, Snowy Plover, and other species of concern.
5. Introduce management practices to protect old growth redwood soils, under story and roots.
6. Continue prescribed burn program throughout the park
7. Prepare a plan that will preserve and enhance the outstanding examples of “park rustic” architecture created and/or modified by the Civilian Conservation Corp.
8. Protect archeological sites
9. Promote Regional trail connections.
10. Eliminate non-critical and non-historic roads to reduce sedimentation in Waddell Creek and other water bodies.
11. Encourage management plans, research and environmental study focused on understanding, protecting and enhancing the cultural and natural resources a Big Basin Redwood State Park.
